

About Us

This joint German-Israeli Foundation works towards creating a network of young multipliers from both countries. It seeks to promote innovative, forward looking projects in the fields of culture, business, academia and the media.

The Foundation will give priority to projects carried out jointly by German and Israeli organizations or projects that have at least one part of their program set in the other country; additionally projects especially qualified to develop future networks will also be prioritized.

The Foundation will lay out the focus of its program to provide guidelines for future queries. The program focus refers to the funding principles of the Foundation. Once agreed upon by the board of trustees, the program focus will be made public.

For application guidelines please check under funding.
